Vines were planted 3 feet apart in rows, individual planting holes were augured without disturbing the original soil structure. Average yields were ~1 ton per acre. The resulting wines produced deep complex flavors and exquisite bouquets.
158	Wildlife Images	I've been an "art junkie" for a good 40 years, being a full-time artist for most of those. The first 20 years found me carving wood; fish and birds being my favorite subjects. More recently I have been creating those same images (and other flora, fauna) in copper, repousseing the image in copper then hand painting each one. Each completed piece has it's own personality, appealing to people differently. Matting and framing make these a beautiful wall décor.
43 & 44	Willamette Valley Vineyards	"Our mission in growing cool-climate varietals is to create elegant, classic Oregon wines from the Willamette Valley Appellation. As native Oregonians, we treasure our environment and use sustainable practices in growing and vinifying our wine-grapes."
